CITATION

Released: March 30, 2005

By the Resident Agent, Portland Office, Western Region, Enforcement Bureau:

1. This is an Official Citation issued pursuant to Section 503(b)(5) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (“Act”),¹ to Mr. Bill Burnham for violation of Section 15.5(b) of the Commission’s rules (“Rules”).²

2. Investigation by the FCC’s Portland Office revealed that on March 18, 2005, a Part 15 device³ at the residence of Mr. Bill Burnham in Portland, Oregon was causing interference to amateur radio frequency 447.325 MHz.

3. Section 15.5(b) of the Rules states “[o]peration of an intentional, unintentional, or incidental radiator is subject to the conditions that no harmful interference is caused”⁴

4. On March 16, 2005, the FCC’s Portland Office received a complaint of interference to amateur radio frequency 447.325 MHz. On March 18, 2005, an agent from the Portland Office investigated the allegation and located the interfering signal emanating from a motor home owned by Mr. Burnham. Further investigation revealed that the source of the interfering signal was a Winegard amplified television antenna, installed on the roof of the referenced motor home owned by Mr. Burnham.

5. These Winegard antenna amplifiers have been the source of radio frequency interference in a number of cases. As a result of this interference, Winegard has agreed to replace the defective units at no charge (see Winegard Internet site www.winegard.com). Mr. Burnham will need to contact Winegard at (319) 754-0600 or 800-856-4350 in Burlington, Iowa to make arrangements for them to replace the defective unit. Due to the continuing radio communications interference caused by the Winegard amplified television antennas, we request that Mr. Burnham return the defective Winegard antenna to the FCC at the address indicated below for testing after it is replaced.
